CDC Board seeking volunteer to fill one open position

LITTLE ELM (October 14, 2016) An opening on the Board of Directors for Little Elm's Community Development Corporation will soon be filled by Council appointment, and the CDC is looking for residents interested in being considered for that position.

The CDC is a non-profit, tax-exempt corporation that provides leadership and funding for projects that enhance and preserve Little Elm's quality of life.

The eight-member board, which includes seven citizens and one Council member, oversees and administers funds for a wide variety of projects, all benefitting the residents of Little Elm in one way or another.

Positions on the CDC Board, referred to as "the 4B" because of the legislation that created it, are filled by Council appointment.

The enabling legislation specifies that funds can be used for, among other things, land, buildings, equipment, facilities, expenditures and improvements for professional and amateur sports facilities, park facilities and events, entertainment, convention and tourist facilities.

Little Elm uses CDC funds primarily for construction projects, parks development, special events and community improvement activities that create an atmosphere which embraces the Town as a center for family entertainment and amusement.

Applications for the positions may be found on the Town of Little Elm website on the Boards, Commissions & Corporations page under the Government tab of the Town's home page or by visiting: <http://www.littleelmtx.us/index.aspx?nid=64>.

Interested individuals must have been residents of Little Elm for a minimum of one year, be of high moral character and be willing to devote time, effort, expertise and energy to the position.

Deadline for submitting applications for consideration is 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 28. Individuals who qualify for consideration will undergo interviews with a panel which includes the Mayor, a member of the Town Council and a member of the CDC. Interviews will occur shortly after the deadline expires, and each qualifying applicant will be notified of their specific interview time by the CDC staff.

More information may be obtained by calling 214-731-3296 or by visiting www.littleelm.org.
